

The Seattle Times

“Freshwater Meets Saltwater in a Perfect Oyster Wine”

by Paul Gregutt

Circulation 233,268

“For everyday Italian wines that are meticulously made, nicely detailed and affordably priced, I turn to Gruppo Mezzacorona’s lineup.”

Feudo Arancio Grillo 2004

“... is perfect for those who want something new and aren’t afraid of a white wine with some flesh on its bones. It shows plush tropical fruits and light spices but retains plenty of acid to keep it from being too soft or flabby.”

